October 2005

October 18th Meeting

Dennis Arendt will show us how he creates all those great infrared images. We will also have a question and answer session, so if you are having problems with managing your digital images, bring your questions, and we will try to answer them. If time permits, we may view one of our videos. This is also the time to bring forward your suggestions for future meetings.

November 15th Meeting

Competition Night. Bring up to four images. Remember to email Dick Frieders your digital slides.

December 20th Meeting

We are honored to have Fred Drury return to present a program on digital color management. Fred has a lot of practical knowledge in this area, and he is going to share it with us. He has presented this in other venues, and the program is always well received. So if you are having trouble getting your prints to come out right, this is the program to hear.

Last Chance to Register for CAPS

CAPS is coming October 30. This is the perfect opportunity for all you digital folks to hear two nationally renowned speakers, Tim Grey and Ben Wilmore, for the cheap price of $60! All the details and registration form are available at <http://www.chicameraclubs.org/>
Bring the money and forms to the meeting, and save yourself a stamp.

Help us come up with interesting meetings. Give us some input!

What do you want us to present?

PIXEL to Compete Internationally

Pixel has joined the first Inter-Club Digital Competition, run by the Electronic Imaging Division of the Photographic Society of America. Dennis Arendt is the coordinator, and he will pick digital images from club members to compete against other clubs four times a year, starting in November. So far, 16 clubs are registered, including those from Canada and United Kingdom.
